

DISCLAIMER

The Hazero disclaimer is applicable to any information on this website.

Information on this website is produced and owned by Hazero, unless otherwise indicated through third party links. Hazero is not responsible for the contents or reliability of third party links. Third party links are correct at time of publishing - if you discover broken links please let us know through the contact form.

Information is designed as a guide to provide general information. It is not intended to address specific circumstances of any individual or company. Hazero accepts no responsibility or liability as a result of using information published on this site.

Material may not be reproduced without prior approval from Hazero. Requests for reproduction may be made by emailing head office on, info@hazero.co.nz. Hazero may request final approvals of content prior to publication and reserve the right to amend changes or revoke previous approvals for content use.

Information is not a substitution for any laws, official guidelines or requirements of New Zealand.